

canoe dance 1: First Free Trio sheet 1

↓ Z

description
canoes approach centre from three sides 120° apart

description
canoes do clockwise stop turn to end in triangle

description
entire triangle rotates counterclockwise 180°

description
each canoe pivots counterclockwise to form bow-in trillium (canoes will have to move slightly outward for bows not to collide)

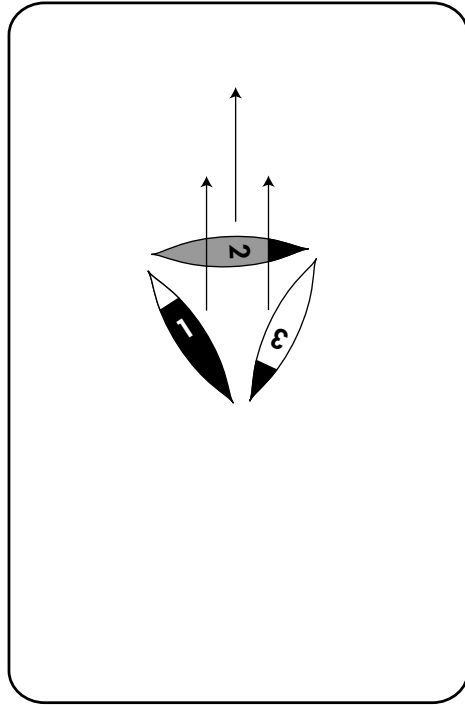

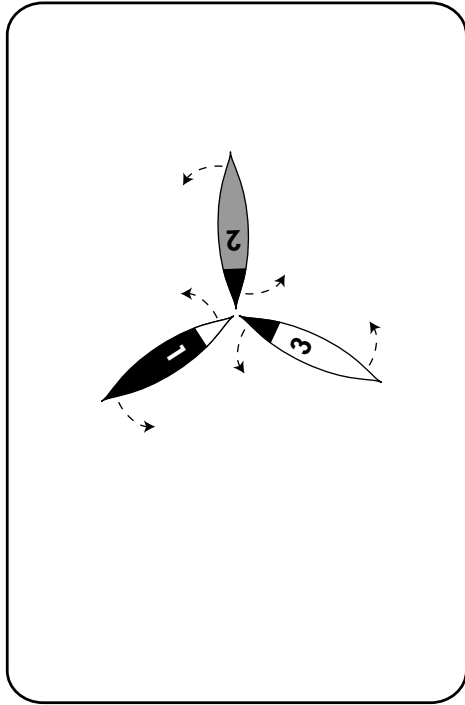

commentary
Ladies and gentlemen; we are once again pleased to present "canoe dance one" in a short performance called "First Free Trio." The music they chose is the music of the Canadian northland: loon calls.

commentary

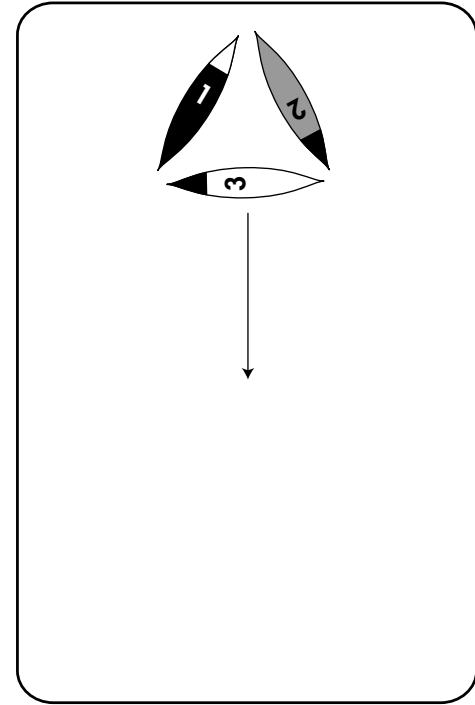

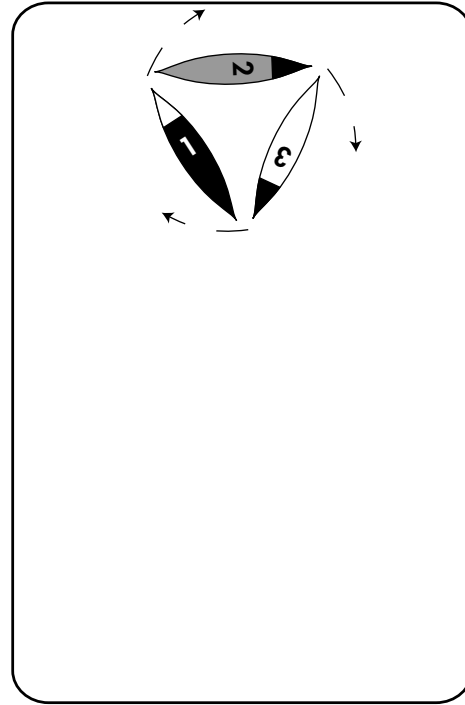

commentary

commentary

canoe dance 1: First Free Trio sheet 2

↓ Z

description
when canoes get to bow-in trillium, they continue to pivot back to the triangle position (canoes will have to move in slightly to achieve tight triangle)

description
whole triangle displaces toward south end of the pool

description
entire triangle rotates clockwise 60°

description
3 displaces sideward to middle of the pool 1 & 2 stationary

commentary

commentary

commentary

commentary

canoe dance 1: First Free Trio sheet 3

description
 2 pivots and curves to set up for a stop-turn two canoe widths from 3
 1 pivots and curves to follow 2
 3 stationary

description
 2 performs clockwise stop-turn 2 canoe widths from 3 1 continues to set up for stop-turn between 2 & 3

description
 1 does stop-turn in between 2 & 3 when the canoes are lined up in a row, paddlers raise their paddles to signal THE END

description
 canoes stationary until finish is acknowledged and then paddle back to dock

commentary

commentary

commentary
 That was "Canoe Dance One" with a short routine called "First Free Trio." Today's paddlers are __, __ and __. If you'd like to learn more about Canadian Style Paddling and canoe dance, you can talk to the paddlers after the show, they'll be _____.

commentary