Build lasting relationships with your business team!

Explore this unique teambuilding process of billiards and motivational speaking that inspires winning business strategies and emphasizes the importance of building strong relationships.

The game of Billiards is a unique activity that brings people together in a fun and relaxed atmosphere. Jovan will help you plan an evening at an upscale billiards facility in your city, perfectly suited for this relationship-building event.

Be a player not a spectator! rollingzen will teach you how, in a relaxed environment outside of the normal pressures of the workplace.

Canada's Top Billiards Teaching Professional, Jovan Vuksanovich, combines the game of pocket billiards (Pool) with corporate teambuilding in a unique way. He has worked with over 85 major companies in the last 10 years to assist them with the achievement of their corporate objectives. Included in this group are Ford, DuPont, BMW, US Robotics, Microsoft, SAS Institute, Sony, Kyocera Wireless, Bayer, Hewlett Packard, Telus, and Monsanto.

The game of pocket billiards (or Pool) enjoys an enormous world-wide popularity and is slated to become an Olympic game. Jovan has created a methodology that facilitates teambuilding after delivering an important message through a customized motivational talk.

TSN's Hooked on Pool: Why the game of billiards is relevant to business

Excerpt from TSN'S Hooked On Pool:

In the fast paced, number-crunching world of business corporations are constantly searching for unique ways to build relationships. More and more business associates are meeting in the pool room, rather than just the boardroom.
